Showcasing a mix of art and sculpture

Called 'Re-Imaginings', this show brings together British artists Idris Khan (b.1978 Birmingham, UK) and Annie Morris (b.1978, London, UK). This exhibition marks the first ever joint exhibition of the husband-wife duo. Working from conjoining studios in London their practices are distinctly individual and wonderfully different. The two find inspiration in each other and there's a cross pollination of ideas as this exhibition demonstrates.

Recently awarded an OBE by the Royal family at Buckingham Palace, Khan is increasingly recognised not only as one of the leading practition-
